Week 12

Check out what’s happening...

There is a lot happening this week! We will begin our week in comfort with pajama day on Monday. Students will get the opportunity to have breakfast with their parents and/ or grandparents on Thursday morning! I look forward to seeing some of you on Thursday!

Please see the reminders section to see how you can help us learn about past and present.

Content Updates...

Reading: This week we will be reading The Hat and Hibernation Station. We will be using these stories to identify what happened in the beginning, middle and end of the story. Students will use technology to draw these events.

Math: This week in math we will work on taking apart numbers 0-10. Students will use manipulatives to show different ways to make these numbers.

Sight words/ Phonics: This week in phonics we will be working with the letter i. We will also be adding the words green, blue, he and for to our word ring. Students will learn the chant for -ing.

Science: This week in science we will continue to talk about how animals prepare for winter. We will also talk about how we prepare for winter and identify signs of this season.

“WHO’s” got the news?

Reminders...

- As the temperature continues to drop, please make sure your child is dressed for outdoor recess.
- Friday marks the halfway point of the second quarter. I will be sending home a checklist of skills we are working on at the end of the week. If your child is missing any of these skills, please be sure to practice them at home.
- Next week we will begin talking about past and present in Social Studies and will be working on comparing and contrasting. To help work on these skills I am asking parents to send in a picture of their child from when they were little. I will return the pictures. We will use them to sort, compare and contrast and will also use them for our writing. Please write your child’s name on their picture so I can get it back to you.

Tech Tip: Abcya.com is a great website that has fun math and reading games that allow your child to practice the skills we are working on in class.

Who who can ...

These are the “I can” statements we will be working on this week!

I can read and write three letter words that contain the middle sound of a and i

I can identify numbers 0-20

I can identify what happened in the beginning, middle and end of a story..

I can read our sight words.
